REDSKINS FINISH 4-12, HOLD NO. 5 PICK IN 2015 NFL DRAFT

Following a 4-12 campaign during the 2014 season, the Washington Redskins will enter the 2015 NFL Draft with the No. 5 overall pick and a new voice in the front office.

The 2015 NFL draft will be the Redskins' first under the purview of new General Manager Scot McCloughan, who assumed the role on Jan. 9, 2015. McCloughan joined the Redskins with an extensive track record during his more than two decades of NFL experience, as teams featuring McCloughan's acquisitions during his tenures with the San Francisco 49ers and Seattle Seahawks accounted for each of the last five NFC West titles and have represented the NFC in each of the last three Super Bowls.

The roster McCloughan inherits features tackle Trent Williams and linebacker Ryan Kerrigan, the team's top draft picks in 2010 and 2011, respectively, who turned in standout performances in 2014.

Williams earned his third consecutive Pro Bowl selection in 2014, the 16th selection by a Redskins offensive tackle since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger. Williams continued a tradition of excellence for the Redskins at left tackle, a position at which Redskins have been selected to seven of the last 10 Pro Bowls.

Kerrigan started 16 games for his fourth consecutive season since entering the league in 2011 and recorded 13.5 sacks, second-most in the NFC in 2014 and the fourth-most by a member of the Redskins since sacks became official in 1982. From Weeks 12-16, Kerrigan became the first member of the Redskins to record a full sack in five consecutive games since Fred Stokes in 1991.

Washington now awaits its schedule for the 2015 season, which will feature the opponents listed below.

2015 NFL DRAFT ORDER

The Draft order is determined by the following procedures:

(A) The winner of the Super Bowl game shall select last and the loser of such game shall select next-to-last in all rounds, regardless of the record of such participating clubs in the regular season.

(B) The losers of the Conference championship games shall select 29th and 30th in all rounds, according to the reverse order of their standing.

(C) The losers of the Divisional playoff games shall select in the 25th through 28th positions in all rounds, according to the reverse order of their standing.

(D) The losers of the Wild Card games shall select in the 21st through 24th positions in all rounds, according to the reverse order of their standing.

(E) Clubs not participating in the playoffs shall select in the first through 20th positions in all rounds, according to the reverse order of their standing.

If, after all the foregoing procedures have been applied, ties still exist in any grouping except (A) above, such ties shall be broken by figuring the aggregate won-lost-tied percentage of each involved club's regular season opponents and awarding preferential selection order to the club which faced the schedule of teams with the lowest aggregate won-lost-tied percentage.

If ties still exist, the divisional or conference tie-breaking method, if applicable, shall be applied. If neither the divisional nor the conference tie-breaking methods are applicable, ties shall be broken by a coin flip conducted by the Commissioner.

The tie between Kansas City and San Diego was broken by the division tie-breaker. Since Kansas City defeated San Diego twice in head-to-head competition, San Diego is given priority in the Draft order and will select in the 17th position, with Kansas City in the 18th position.

Clubs involved in two-club ties will alternate positions from round-to-round. In ties that involve three or more clubs, the club at the top of a tied segment in a given round will move to the bottom of the segment for the next round, while all other clubs in the segment move up one position. This rotation continues throughout the Draft.

The Washington Redskins finalized their 2014 NFL Draft class on Saturday, May 10, 2014, selecting eight total players.

NOTES ON THE REDSKINS' OVERALL DRAFT

- The Redskins made eight selections in the 2014 NFL Draft. The eight selections marked the third time in four years Washington has selected at least eight players (2011, 2012 and 2014).
- Washington selected 36 players in the past four drafts, the franchise's largest four-year total since the institution of the seven-round draft in 1994. The team last posted a four-year total of 36 across the 1991-94 NFL Drafts, a time frame which included two 12-round drafts, one eight-round draft and one seven-round draft.
- Washington made at least seven selections in four consecutive drafts for the first time since 1992-95.
- The Redskins selected two players in the seventh round, marking the sixth time in the last seven years that the team has drafted multiple players in the seventh round. Washington has made multiple seventh-round selections in each year from 2008 through 2014 with exception of the 2013 NFL Draft.
- Washington made two trades during the 2014 NFL Draft. On Friday, the team sent the No. 34 overall pick to the Dallas Cowboys in exchange for the Nos. 47 and 78 overall picks. On Saturday, Washington sent the No. 178 overall pick to the Tennessee Titans for the Nos. 186 and 228 overall selections.

ALUMNI CENTER

Formally organized in 1958, the Washington Redskins Alumni Association was the first organization of its kind in the country. The organization spearheaded the alumni movement among former professional football players and was the model for other alumni groups that later formed in all NFL cities. Now entering its 56th year, the Alumni Association continues to celebrate those who have contributed to more than eight decades of Redskins football dating back to the team's inception in 1932.

The primary objectives of the Redskins Alumni are promoting a continuing interest in current and past players of the Washington Redskins, as well as promoting and fostering interest and funding for charitable purposes. With respect to the latter, the alumni conduct fundraising events to raise money that can be donated to charitable organizations or used in other ways to help improve the quality of life for youth in the Greater Washington community.

Today, Redskins alumni continue to make their presence known throughout the community. As a very active chapter of the NFL Alumni Association, their motto is "Caring for Kids." In addition to the numerous events and appearances Redskins Alumni participate in throughout the year, they hold two major fundraising events of their own — the Redskins Alumni Charity Golf Classic, now in its 36th year, and the annual Washington Redskins Welcome Home Luncheon, now in its 53rd year.

The alumni have an office at Redskins Park and can be reached at 703-726-7488. Since his arrival in Washington in December of 2009, President Bruce Allen has made it a priority to build a bridge to the franchise's historic past. During the Redskins' NFC East title-winning season in 2012, that mission came to the forefront as the team celebrated its 80th anniversary.

"This year, the Washington Redskins will be celebrating our 80th anniversary season. I'm proud to be with the franchise in our nation's capital, one with such a rich tradition and gloried past on and off the field," Allen said in a July 2012 column filling in for Sports Illustrated's Peter King. "The current Redskins players, coaches, fans and staff owe a big debt of gratitude to the people who have made the Redskins one of the flagship franchises in sports."

Throughout the 2012 offseason, the Redskins traversed the Washington D.C./Maryland/Virginia area as part of the team's 'Thank You Tour,' which brought players, coaches, alumni, cheerleaders, team officials and more to fans throughout the entire region to help celebrate the team's historic heritage.

That heritage continues to be honored amongst the game's elite, as in August 2011, former Redskin great Chris Hanburger was enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. He was presented by his son, Chris. Hanburger was voted into the Hall after being a nominee of the seniors committee. In all, he waited 28 years to be elected.

Hanburger joined Darrell Green (2008), Art Monk (2008) and Russ Grimm (2010) to make four players who spent the majority of their careers with the Redskins to earn the honor in the past five years. In addition, former Redskins Bruce Smith (2009) and Deion Sanders (2011) have also been elected over that time. Hanburger said of his election to the Hall of Fame: "It's wonderful, I'm overwhelmed. It's just such a tremendous honor to even be nominated, let alone be voted in. You have to think about all of the men that played before I did, certainly the men that I played with and against, and then you look at the guys playing now. It's just a select few that make it in. I was fortunate to play with players on the Redskins defense that made it all work for me."

On Aug. 22, the Washington Redskins Charitable Foundation and Redskins Alumni Association held the 53rd annual Welcome Home Luncheon at the Gaylord National Resort and Convention Center in National Harbor, Md. The annual event celebrates the burgundy and gold and kicks off each football season with Redskins players, coaches and alumni.

The Redskins Welcome Home Luncheon is annually the only event where fans and corporate partners have the chance to spend time with the entire Redskins team. Each table is guaranteed at least one player or coach seated with the attendees. Proceeds from the event benefit the youth programs of the Washington Redskins Charitable Foundation and Redskins Alumni Association.

The Redskins used the 2014 event to honor their players for contributions both on and off the field. Tackle Trent Williams earned the 2013 Bobby Mitchell Offensive Player of the Year award, cornerback DeAngelo Hall earned the 2013 Sam Huff Defensive Player of the Year award, quarterback Robert Griffin III won the 2013 Redskins Salute Award for his efforts with the military, and running back Alfred Morris accepted the 2013 Community Service Award.

Also among the Redskins Alumni Association's premier events is the team's annual Alumni Homecoming celebration, which the Redskins hosted in 2014 during the team's Week 7 win against Tennessee. Not including staff and coaches, players in attendance represented nearly 500 combined seasons of Redskins service, 77 combined Super Bowl appearances, 47 combined Super Bowl titles, 25 members of the 80 Greatest Redskins, 14 Redskins Ring of Famers and five Pro Football Hall of Famers. In addition, as announced by Allen at the Welcome Home Luncheon in August, the Redskins used the Alumni Homecoming celebration to induct Super Bowl XXVI MVP Mark Rypien as the 46th member of the team's Ring of Fame.

"Homecoming and Alumni Weekend is very special," Rypien said. "We get to honor those that played before us that paved the path, that showed us what it was like to be a Redskin. We get to honor those who played after us that represented this organization. And last night, and throughout this day today, I get to honor those that I played with. A piece of every one of those players is up there with me along with the 56,000 fans at RFK Stadium that cheered us to a Super Bowl and greatness."

MARK RYPIEN JOINS REDSKINS RING OF FAME

In the midst of the Redskins' annual Alumni Homecoming celebration in Week 7, the Washington Redskins inducted quarterback Mark Rypien as the 46th member of the team's Ring of Fame at halftime of the Redskins' win against the Tennessee Titans. The Redskins originally announced Rypien's selection at the 53rd Annual Welcome Home Luncheon at the Gaylord National Resort and Convention Center in National Harbor, Md. on Aug. 22.

"I would just like to say, wow, this is pretty incredible," Rypien said following the announcement by President Bruce Allen at the Welcome Home Luncheon. "I'm very excited. Thank you Bruce for the kind words, Mr. Snyder for this great honor. I'm very, very excited for this and very honored and also very humbled."

Originally selected by the Redskins out of Washington State in the sixth round (146th overall) of the 1986 NFL Draft, Rypien spent eight seasons in Washington from 1986-93, appearing in 77 games with 72 starts for the Redskins and completing 1,244-of-2,207 passes for 15,928 yards with 101 touchdowns and a passer rating of 80.2. He also added eight rushing touchdowns during his time with the Redskins.

Rypien most notably led the Redskins to victory in Super Bowl XXVI, securing Super Bowl MVP honors for a performance in which he completed 18-of-33 passes for 292 yards with two touchdowns. Rypien helped the Redskins to a 24-0 third quarter lead en route to a 37-24 win against the Buffalo Bills, giving Washington its fifth world championship and third Super Bowl title in franchise history.

"When they hoist that name up there in October, there's 52 guys that deserve to be on that name that represent who we were and what we did," Rypien said. "There's also 55,000 and such and such people, a lot of whom are here, that were at RFK Stadium that gave us the intangible things to go out and play hard and really made it difficult for teams to play here."

Rypien's performance in Super Bowl XXVI came following a 1991 regular season in which he helped guide the Redskins to a team-record-tying 14 wins in the regular season. He earned second-team Associated Press All-Pro honors and the second of his two career Pro Bowl berths and was named United Press International's NFC Offensive Player of the Year.

Rypien and the Redskins outscored their 1991 regular season opponents by a differential of +261 points, the third-largest margin in league history since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger. The Redskins never trailed that postseason and outscored their three playoff opponents by an average margin of 20.3 points per game.

Beyond his efforts on the field, Rypien, a native of Calgary, Alberta, founded The Mark Rypien Foundation after losing his three-year-old son, Andrew, to cancer. In the wake of his difficult personal experiences, the Rypien Foundation was created with a commitment to provide hope for families battling childhood cancer in his home region of Spokane, Wash. Each year the foundation raises and provides funding to support unique programs and projects that help address the needs of children with cancer and foster a powerful healing environment for child cancer patients.

The announcement of Rypien's induction came on the 16th anniversary of Andrew's passing.

"As excited as I am, it's a difficult day for me," he said. "So thank you from the bottom of my heart for picking my spirits up and I'll remember this day forever."

Rypien, who was named by a blue ribbon panel as one of the 70 Greatest Redskins in 2002, becomes the first person inducted into the Redskins Ring of Fame since former player/coach Richie Petitbon's induction in December 2011. More information about the Ring of Fame and its 45 existing members can be found online by accessing www.redskins.com/team/history/ring-of-fame.html.

"This blue ribbon panel of alumni and other people from the Washington area have to answer one question, one simple question: Can you write the history of the Washington Redskins without 'Blank,' and you insert different names into it. And this year, we are honoring a Super Bowl MVP. Mark Rypien will be our 46th member of our Ring of Fame."

- President Bruce Allen announcing Rypien's selection at the 53rd Annual Welcome Home Luncheon at the Gaylord National Resort and Convention Center on Aug. 22

Quarterback Mark Rypien spent eight seasons in Washington from 1986-93, most notably leading the Redskins to victory in Super Bowl XXVI, securing Super Bowl MVP honors for a performance in which he completed 18-of-33 passes for 292 yards with two touchdowns. Rypien — seen in the lower speaking following the announcement of his selection to the Ring of Fame on Aug. 22 — helped give Washington its fifth world championship and third Super Bowl title in franchise history.

1,000-YARD CLUB

DeSean Jackson

The road to DeSean Jackson's fourth career 1,000-yard receiving season was just a little bit sweeter in 2014.

Jackson recorded three 1,000-yard receiving seasons as a member of the Philadelphia Eagles in 2009, 2010 and 2013. Jackson entered Week 16 needing 43 yards to reach the 1,000-yard mark, and standing opposite him at the line of scrimmage in his quest for 1,000 was his former team.

That day, Jackson earned his first victory against his former team and recorded four receptions for 126 yards (31.5 avg.). In two games against his former team this season, Jackson caught nine passes for 243 yards (27.0 avg.) with one touchdown.

"It was very special for myself, being there last year and everything happening," Jackson said of the game and his journey. "For us to come out on top like that, that's a great one."

With a 51-yard reception on his second catch of the game, Jackson surpassed 1,000 receiving yards on the season to post the 28th 1,000-yard receiving season in Redskins history. Jackson became the fifth member of the Redskins to post 1,000 receiving yards in his first season in Washington, joining Bobby Mitchell in 1962, Henry Ellard in 1994, Laveranues Coles in 2003 and Santana Moss in 2005.

1,000 RECEIVING YARDS IN DEBUT SEASON WITH REDSKINS:

Team	Year	Yards	Rec.	Avg.	TD
DeSean Jackson	2014	1,169	56	20.9	6
Santana Moss	2005	1,483	84	17.7	9
Laveranues Coles	2003	1,204	82	14.7	6
Henry Ellard	1994	1,397	74	18.9	6
Bobby Mitchell	1962	1,384	72	19.2	11

Jackson reached 1,000 yards in the process of registering his sixth 100-yard receiving game of the season. His six 100-yard games in a single season mark the fourth time a member of the Redskins has accomplished the feat since 1960 (Bobby Mitchell, 7 in 1962 and 6 in 1963; Art Monk, 6 in 1985).

Alfred Morris

Devoid of any single ubiquitous nickname for the third-year running back out of Florida Atlantic, Redskins Head Coach Jay Gruden has his own descriptor for Alfred Morris — "Steady Eddie" — which he used both in Training Camp and after the Redskins' Week 16 win vs. Philadelphia.

The numbers from Morris' first three seasons would give credence to the name "Steady Freddy" if the bruising back was the type to accede a nickname. With 83 yards on 21 carries against the Eagles, Morris surpassed the 1,000-yard rushing mark for the third time in his first three seasons.

Morris became only the fourth player in Redskins history to post three career 1,000-yard rushing seasons with the Redskins, joining Clinton Portis (4), John Riggins (4) and Stephen Davis (3). Morris joined Davis (1999-2001) as the only players in Redskins history to rush for 1,000 yards in three consecutive seasons.

Morris is the 17th player in NFL history to eclipse the 1,000-yard rushing mark in each of his first three seasons, a list that includes John Brockington (1971-73), Tony Dorsett (1977-79), Earl Campbell (1978-80), Ottis Anderson (1979-81), William Andrews (1979-81), Eric Dickerson (1983-85), Barry Sanders (1989-91), Terrell Davis (1995-97), Curtis Martin (1995-97), Eddie George (1996-98), Corey Dillon (1997-99), Jamal Lewis (2000-03), LaDainian Tomlinson (2001-03), Clinton Portis (2002-04), Adrian Peterson (2007-09) and Chris Johnson (2008-10). Morris is the first player to accomplish the feat with the Redskins.

DESEAN JACKSON

The Washington Redskins knew first-hand what kind of playmaking ability wide receiver DeSean Jackson possesses. In six years as a Philadephia Eagle, Jackson faced the Redskins 11 times, catching 32 passes for 572 yards (17.9 avg.) with five receiving touchdowns, his most receiving touchdowns against any opponent.

So when Jackson hit the free agent market on March 28, the Redskins were quick to act, signing the three-time Pro Bowler on April 2. In 2014, the Redskins and first-year head coach Jay Gruden set about finding ways to feature the dynamic seventh-year playmaker as part of its arsenal of weapons.

"You want to get people involved. That's what the beauty of this offense hopefully is – being able to spread the ball around," Gruden said during training camp. "We are able to get the running game involved, we are able to get Andre Roberts, DeSean and Pierre Garçon their touches and Robert [Griffin III] whatever he needs to do. Darrel Young, Jordan Reed, even [Logan] Paulsen, we've got to try to get everybody involved."

It's been Jackson's explosiveness that has turned heads his entire career since entering the league in 2008. Jackson leads the NFL in receptions of 50-plus yards (30) and total touchdowns of 50-plus yards (21) in that timeframe.

Jackson's explosiveness and flair for the dramatic took center stage in Week 3 in his return to Philadelphia. Despite being questionable after suffering an injury to his AC joint a week earlier, Jackson played and played spectacularly against the Eagles, posting 117 receiving yards on five receptions including an 81-yard touchdown on a bomb in his return. He would add touchdowns of 60 yards and 64 yards in Week 5 and Week 6, respectively.

In Week 3, Jackson and Garçon became the first Redskins to accumulate 100 receiving yards in the same game since Laveranues Coles (180) and Rod Gardner (118) accomplished the feat at Atlanta on Sept. 13, 2003. With Garçon and Jackson comprising a one-two receiving punch among Washington's array of offensive weapons for 2014, the question was posed to Jackson early in training camp: Will there be enough touches to keep everyone happy?

"I'm sure that's the question everyone will want to know. Honestly, me and Andre [Roberts] were just talking about it earlier. It's very dangerous and it's very scary – I'd rather be on the team that has all the weapons," Jackson said. "With me, Tana [Santana Moss], Pierre, J-Reed [Jordan Reed], Roberts, it's so many options – Alfred Morris. There's just so many options that regardless of how you play it... If somebody doesn't get double teamed, another receiver is going to be open."

"I'd rather be on the team with all the weapons."

- Wide receiver DeSean Jackson in response to a question about if there are enough touches to keep all of Washintgon's offensive threats happy

Jackson's addition was called a "hand-in-glove" fit by Pro Bowl left tackle Trent Williams, and it's how Jackson fits both with and without the ball that Gruden envisions helping the attack.

"Some days DeSean will have 10 catches for 200 yards. Maybe he will have two catches for eight yards. We don't know how it's going to play out, how the defenses are going to cover us," Gruden said. "The coverage should dictate where the ball goes and hopefully with the weapons that we have, a certain guy can make a defense pay depending on how they are playing us."

Jackson joined the Redskins following a season in which he posted career highs in receptions (82) and receiving yards (1,332) and matched his career high in receiving touchdowns (nine).

"Honestly, man," Jackson opined when asked his expectations for 2014. "I just want to help my team win games."

A.M.-TRAK

Away from football, running back Alfred Morris might be best known for his beloved car — a 1991 Mazda 626 he affectionately names "Bentley." Mazda volunteered 275 hours of work over four months to restore Morris' famous ride, which he bought from his pastor for $2 in college.

It's been Morris himself that's run like an old classic since he entered the league in 2012. Morris was one of the engines that drove the Redskins to their first team rushing title since 1933 in 2012 and has continued to drive the Redskins' offense ever since.

Morris was one of five backs to post 1,000 rushing yards in all three seasons from 2012-14 (Jamaal Charles, Matt Forte, Frank Gore and Marshawn Lynch). Morris' 3,962 rushing yards since 2012 are second-most in the league, and he is tied for the most 70-yard rushing games in that time frame.

#HBKerrigan

If patience is a virtue, the Redskins were virtuous in the first round of the 2011 NFL Draft, as the team opted to trade back from its No. 10 overall selection to the 16th overall pick. With the 16th selection, the Redskins used the pick acquired from Jacksonville to select Ryan Kerrigan, a then-defensive end out of Purdue. In three-plus seasons, the end-turned-linebacker has blossomed into one of the Redskins' most consistent performers and one of the league's up and coming pass rushers.

Named to his first career Pro Bowl following the 2012 season, the Muncie, Ind. native registered 8.5 sacks in each of the past two seasons after posting 7.5 in his rookie season in 2011. The 26-year-old — who finished 2014 with a career high of 13.5 sacks — has started all 64 regular season games and one postseason game played by the organization since he was drafted.

In Week 2 of the 2014 season, Kerrigan launched a simultaneous assault on Jaguars quarterback Chad Henne and the Redskins' record book, tying a franchise record by becoming the fifth player in team history to record four sacks in a game. But more stunning than Kerrigan's four-sack outburst was the way the normally subdued man from America's heartland celebrated his first and fourth sacks of the day in the midst of a 41-10 win.

"[Linebacker] Will Compton has been kind of getting in my ear for a while to do the Shawn Michaels from wrestling — the HBK," Kerrigan said of the inspiration for his celebrations. "All he kept saying was, 'Hit the HBK, hit the HBK.' Finally, I did right by him and hit the HBK a couple times. On the second and third ones, when I didn't do it, he was giving me a bunch of hell on the sidelines, like, 'Why didn't you do it? You need to trademark it.' I'm like, 'Well, I can't trademark it, it's HBK.' But that's where it came from. You guys can thank Will Compton for the motivation for that one."

The gesture resonated with wrestling fans and Redskins fans alike. The celebration was promoted by WWE on Twitter, and Redskins fans immediately began referring to the celebration as the "#HBKerrigan."

Kerrigan is one of six players selected in the 2011 NFL Draft to have already reached 35 career sacks. Houston's J.J. Watt (57.0), Denver's Von Miller (49.0), Kansas City's Justin Houston (48.5), St. Louis' Robert Quinn (45.0), San Francisco's Aldon Smith (44.0) and Kerrigan (38.0) have combined for 281.5 sacks since entering the league together in the 2011 NFL Draft.

The Purdue product ended his college career tied for the Football Bowl Subdivision record with 14 career forced fumbles, and his innate knack for knocking the ball loose has translated to the NFL. Kerrigan has been credited with 15 forced fumbles in his young career and passed Ken Harvey (13) for the most career forced fumbles by a member of the Redskins since 1994

Kerrigan's impact on the Redskins has transcended football this season, as his strong 2014 campaign also includes an NFL Players Association Community MVP award to his credit. One day after his four-sack performance in Week 2, Kerrigan hosted the second annual Celebrity Waiter Night at Ruth's Chris Steakhouse in Arlington, Va. The linebacker and his teammates served customers and helped raise more than $100,000 for Kerrigan's Blitz for the Better Foundation, which provides support to seriously ill, special needs and physically challenged children throughout the Greater Washington D.C. area.

THAT'S THE WAY

The Redskins spent the majority of the 2014 offseason evaluating a punting battle between newcomers Robert Malone and Blake Clingan, but the race received a darkhorse candidate when the team claimed punter Tress Way off waivers from Chicago on Aug. 20. Way was given 10 days to stake a claim to the punting job, a task he performed en route to making his NFL debut at Houston in Week 1.

In 2014, Way's punting numbers rewarded the coaching staff's faith. Way averaged 47.5 yards per punt, the 35th-best single-season average in NFL history and the highest by a Redskins player since World War II.

Way finished the season averaging 47.5 yards per punt to rank fourth in team history, trailing only Sammy Baugh's full-season NFL record (51.4 yards per punt in 1940) and Baugh's 1941 and 1942 campaigns (48.7 and 48.2). Way became the first member of the Redskins to lead the NFL in punting for a season since Sam Baker in 1958 (45.4). It marked the seventh time a Redskins player had led the league in punting average dating back to 1939 (Baker once, Baugh five times — 1940-43, 1945).

Though Way has been with the organization for only a limited amount of time, he is no stranger to playing for the Redskins. The University of Oklahoma product is a native of Tulsa, Okla., where he played his prep career for the Union H.S. Redskins. Part of the school's pregame traditions include chanting "All My Life I Wanted To Be A Redskin" and "Work, Work, Baby, Work, Work."

"I must've got 65, 'All my life I wanted to be a Redskin' texts," Way told multiple news outlets after making the team's Week 1 roster.

His reply via text: "Work, work, baby, work, work!"

HE SAID IT

"If you guys would have told me when I first got brought in and hadn't even won the job yet at end of the year I'd have a 40-yard net and be leading the league in average I probably would have slapped you in the face and told you to get out of my way."

- Way on his performance

"I got in a groove and was hitting the ball well and kept it going all season," Way said. "My mom and dad were here for the [last] game and it was cool to give them a hug and say, 'Season 1 is in the books, my rookie season is done, I made it.' I feel good how I did and I can get better."

- Way on his rookie season

"With the Pro Bowl stuff, I couldn't believe I was in the mix, but everyone was so mad when I didn't make it. Every week they were like, 'Tress, are you still leading the league?' So with all these veterans fired up and Ryan Clark telling me every week and Brandon Meriweather telling me every week... it made it fun. Specialists are already on their own, but, man, everyone was all excited and it made it a lot of fun."

2014 WALTER PAYTON MAN OF THE YEAR

Darrel Young entered the NFL as a college free agent linebacker out of Villanova in 2009. One position change and two head coaching changes later, Young has found a home as one of the league's most dynamic fullbacks.

A favorite of teammates, fans, coaches and media members alike, there was consternation in the 2014 off-season about whether or not new coach Jay Gruden — who did not prominently feature a fullback as Offensive Coordinator of the Cincinnati Bengals — would have a significant role for Young. That question was laid to rest early in training camp.

"I didn't have Darrel Young in Cincinnati – if I had him, I would have used him," Gruden said. "He's very versatile, he can run, he can catch, so we're excited about having him... The personnel will vary but DY will be a major part of this offense."

> "I didn't have Darrel Young in Cincinnati. If I had him, I would have used him."
> - Head Coach Jay Gruden during training camp, discussing his limited usage of fullbacks while Offensive Coordinator for the Cincinnati Bengals

Gruden's statements have proven prophetic, as Young has posted a career-high five total touchdowns in 2014, including two rushing touchdowns in a Week 16 win vs. Philadelphia.

In Week 9 last season, Young helped the Redskins to an overtime win against the San Diego Chargers, receiving five carries for 12 yards and three rushing touchdowns, including a 4-yard walk-off touchdown in overtime. The three touchdowns were a single-game career high for Young. Young had entered the game with only one career rushing touchdown to his credit — a six-yard score against the New York Giants on Dec. 18, 2011. He added a career-long 62-yard touchdown reception two weeks later at Philadelphia.

As a blocker, Young has helped pave the way for a rushing attack that gained a league-high 4,873 rushing yards on 972 carries across the 2012-13 seasons. Among the beneficiaries of Young's blocks is Alfred Morris, whose 2,888 rushing yards from 2012-13 rank ninth-most in NFL history among players in their first two seasons.

Young was a crucial component of the Redskins' league-high 2,709 rushing yards in 2012, which broke the team record of 2,625 set in 1983. The team broke the 200-yard rushing mark four times in 2012, tied for the most in a season in team history since the 1970 merger. With Young, the Redskins surpassed the 200-yard rushing plateau three times in 2013 as well.

Though Young continues to adapt and thrive in his unsung hero role in Washington's offense, the "hero" label is nothing new to the Young family. Young, the Redskins' 2014 Walter Payton Man of the Year, was raised in a military family, as his father served in the Army and his brother, Sgt. 1st Class David Young Jr., has completed several tours in the Middle East in recent years. Young has travelled overseas to visit troops in order to show his appreciation for members of the military and has repeatedly been supportive of all members of the military.

> "I just run 100 yards and tackle people, hit people, block people. He's out there to serve the country. He's the real hero in my life."
> - Fullback Darrel Young discussing his brother, Sgt. 1st Class David Young Jr., on ESPN's Sunday NFL Countdown (segment screenshots on right)

The mentality of sacrifice and hard work that was ingrained in Young while growing up in a military family established the foundation for his success doing football's so-called "dirty work" both as a fullback and as one of the Redskins' leaders on special teams.

ED BLOCK COURAGE AWARD

The Redskins announced on Tuesday, Nov. 11 that they named linebacker Keenan Robinson the winner of the team's 2014 Ed Block Courage Award. The honor is given annually to a player from each National Football League team who displays extraordinary courage in the face of adversity.

Robinson started 13 games for the Redskins in 2014, compiling a team-high 108 tackles (70 solo), according to NFL GSIS, with 1.5 sacks, one fumble recovery and one interception. In Week 7, Robinson earned NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors following a performance in which he posted a career-high and game-high 14 tackles in a win against the Tennessee Titans, becoming the first Redskins linebacker to earn the honor since Brian Orakpo in Week 4 of the 2011 season.

Robinson's standout performance in 2014 comes after consecutive campaigns in which pectoral tears ended his 2012 and 2013 seasons prematurely. In his rookie year in 2012, Robinson's season ended after he tore his right pectoral during a Thanksgiving Day win against the Dallas Cowboys. The following season, he suffered a tear to his left pectoral in training camp.

"After his second surgery in two years, Keenan knew what it took to work hard since he had just gotten done rehabbing from his right pec and was disappointed to tear his left pec. He worked hard again, missing another season, and put in time and effort throughout the whole 2013 season, rehabbing in the offseason as well. He came back at full strength and ready to go for 2014," Redskins Head Athletic Trainer Larry Hess said. "He has played at a high level as the starting middle linebacker. He continues to work hard and just really showed a lot of dedication and determination coming back on the field after sustaining two season-ending injuries back-to-back."

The Courage Award is named after Ed Block, the longtime head athletic trainer of the Baltimore Colts who was a pioneer in his profession and a respected humanitarian. The inaugural Ed Block Courage Award was presented in 1978 to Baltimore Colts defensive end Joe Ehrmann. Following the Colts' departure from Baltimore in 1984, the scope of the award expanded to include one player from every team in the NFL.

"This is definitely an honor to be chosen by my teammates," Robinson said. "I put a lot of work in during the last two seasons to get back from these two injuries. I'm just glad I'm now able to contribute to this team."

ANCHORING THE LINE

The Redskins' heritage at offensive line runs deep in team lore, dating back to the beloved "Hogs" in the 1980s and 1990s. Since the start of the 2012 season, the Redskins' big men have helped the Redskins rush for more yards than all but two other NFL teams.

NFL RUSHING YARDS SINCE 2012:

Team	Att.	Yards	Avg.	TD

Featured on the offensive line is Trent Williams, the now three-time Pro Bowler who has blossomed from the fourth overall pick in the 2010 NFL Draft to one of the game's premier left tackles. The Oklahoma product nicknamed "Silverback" is often described as a freak athlete, an imposing 337-pounder who recorded a 34.5-inch vertical and 4.87 40-yard dash at the 2010 NFL Combine.

"He's a giant of a man plus he's got the feet of a ballerina."

- Head Coach Jay Gruden on Trent Williams during training camp

It's a breathtaking combination of size, speed and strength that often leaves coaches, teammates and observers in awe. During training camp, Head Coach Jay Gruden was asked if Williams' ability with his feet is coachable to other players or if it was simply blessed.

"Yeah, that's blessed," Gruden said. "You can't teach what Trent Williams has. He's a giant of a man plus he's got the feet of a ballerina, so that is genetics right there at its finest."

Williams has continued a tradition of strong left tackle play in Washington this century. With another selection by Williams in 2014, between Williams (2012-14) and former Redskins great Chris Samuels (2001-02, 05-08), Redskins left tackles have been selected to seven of the last 10 Pro Bowls.

GAME-WINNING FG SINCE 2000

A year after fullback Darrel Young scored a one-yard touchdown run in overtime to beat the San Diego Chargers during Alumni Homecoming weekend in 2013, kicker Kai Forbath converted a 22-yard field goal in the final seconds of regulation to give the Redskins a 19-17 victory against the Tennessee Titans on Alumni Weekend in Week 7 this season.

The game-winning field goal — part of Forbath's career-high four field goals on the day — was the second of Forbath's career and his first since Dec. 9, 2012 vs. Baltimore. The game-winner was Forbath's first of his career in regulation, as his first career game-winning field goal against Baltimore in 2012 came in overtime. The game-winner with no time remaining in regulation was the Redskins' first since Nick Novak's last-second 47-yard field goal to defeat the Dallas Cowboys, 22-19, on Nov. 5, 2006. Forbath would add another game-winner a week later, hitting a 40-yard field goal in overtime to help the Redskins defeat Dallas, as well as a 26-yard field goal with five seconds remaining to defeat Philadelphia in Week 16.

Included below are all of the Redskins' eventual game-winning field goals in the final two minutes of regulation or in overtime.

4-FOR-FORBATH

With his 4-for-4 performance on field goal attempts in Week 7, Kai Forbath became the 28th Redskins kicker since the 1970 merger to post a 100 percent field goal percentage with a minimum of four made field goals. Forbath's 100.0 percent performance with four successful kicks was the Redskins' first since Billy Cundiff's 4-for-4 game in the 2012 season opener.

'WHO IS GOING TO BE NEXT?'

"We were joking around on the sideline like, 'Who is going to be next?' It was such a great feeling, unlike anything I've ever been a part of, getting that many sacks and to play the type of defense we played."

- Linebacker Ryan Kerrigan, who tied a team record with four sacks as the Redskins tied a team record with 10 sacks vs. Jacksonville in Week 2

When the Redskins arrived at FedExField in advance of their Week 2 game against the Jacksonville Jaguars, 36 years, 11 months and 6 days had elapsed since the franchise set a team record with 10 sacks against the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

That stretch of time met a sudden and vicious end in Week 2 as the Redskins dropped Jaguars quarterback Chad Henne 10 times to tie the franchise record. The 10-sack game was the 31st by an NFL franchise since 1982 and the seventh since the turn of the century.

The Redskins had seven different players record at least a partial sack for the first time since eight players registered sacks on Sept. 23, 1990 vs. Dallas.

Leading the pack was linebacker Ryan Kerrigan, who tied a team record with four sacks. Kerrigan became the fifth member of the Redskins to record four sacks in a game and the first since Brian Orakpo accomplished the feat during the 2009 season.
